

Contributors/Contributeurs

Ernest R. Forbes is a member of the History Department of the University of Victoria. His article was originally prepared as a paper for a graduate seminar at Queen's University.

Bernard Pothier is an historian at the Canadian War Museum. The research for his article was undertaken in 1969 and 1970, while the author was employed by the National Historic Sites Service.

W. Stewart MacNutt is a member of the History Department of the University of New Brunswick and the author of several books and numerous articles on the history of Atlantic Canada, including New Brunswick: A History and The Atlantic Provinces: The Emergence of Colonial Society.

Hugh A. Taylor is Provincial Archivist of New Brunswick, but in December becomes Director of the Historical Branch of the Public Archives of Canada.

Alice R. Stewart is a member of the History Department of the University of Maine at Orono. Long interested in the interrelations between New England and the Atlantic Provinces, she was a moving spirit behind the foundation of the N.E.A.P.Q. Center at the University of Maine.