The following was inadvertently omitted from the article "Great Mining Camps of Canada 3. The History and Geology of the Buchans Mine, Newfoundland and Labrador" (Geoscience Canada Volume 37, Number 4, December 2010):

Short Bio for Author

Geoff Thurlow first went to Buchans in 1971 and completed M.Sc. and Ph.D. theses at Memorial University on aspects of Buchans geology and lithogeochemistry. He worked at the mine initially for ASARCO and subsequently for Abitibi-Price until 1985, ultimately directing the exploration programs at the mine and its environs.
