

CONTRIBUTORS

Ernest Evans is Assistant Professor in the Politics Department of Catholic University in Washington, D.C. He received his PhD in Political Science from M.I.T. in 1977 and is author of Calling a Truce to Terror: the American Response to International Terrorism (1979). He is currently writing a book on the U.S. military and unconventional war.

Yarema Gregory Kelebay is Associate Professor of Education (in History) at McGill University. He serves as Director of the St. Lawrence Institute and is former president of the Quebec Association of Teachers of History.

Simon Ollivant is an historian and researcher. He received his PhD from St. Andrews and is about to publish a book on the role of the ecclesiastical jurisdiction in Scots Law.

J.J.C. Voorhoeve is Professor of International Relations and Developments at the University of Wageningen, in the Netherlands, and is Director of the Telders Foundation. He is author of Peace, Profits and Principles: a Study of Dutch Foreign Policy (1977) and a series of articles on European integration, development cooperation and East-West relations.

A.J. Wilson is Professor and Chairperson of the Political Science Department at the University of New Brunswick. He has served as Constitutional Advisor to the President of Sri Lanka. Dr. Wilson received his PhD and DSc (Econ.) from the University of London. He is author of Politics in Sri Lanka 1947-1979 (1979) and several other works on political development of new nations.

* * * * *

The Executive Editors of Conflict Quarterly are pleased to welcome David R. Jones to the Advisory Editorial Board of the journal. Mr. Jones is Director of the Russian Micro Project at Dalhousie University and is Editor of the Soviet Armed Forces Review Annual.