

CONTRIBUTORS

Arthur Aughey is lecturer in politics at the Ulster Polytechnic, Belfast. His publications include articles on Ulster Loyatism, Conservatism, and the European Community. He is joint author of a book on the British Conservative Party and is currently preparing a volume on issues in British Conservatism.

Paul R. Dekar is Associate Professor of Christian History at McMaster Divinity College, Hamilton, Ontario. A graduate of the University of California (Berkeley) and the University of Chicago, in the fields of political science and Christian history, Dr. Dekar served with the U.S. State Department, and more recently in a variety of pastoral positions. He is author of a number of publications relating to church history.

Joseph A. Kechichian is a Ph.D candidate in foreign affairs at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville. His dissertation is on the Gulf Cooperation Council's search for regional security in the Persian/Arabian Gulf. He is author of a forthcoming article on the politics of Saudi Arabia in International Journal of Middle East Studies.

Vittorfranco S. Pisano is a member of the Rome bar, specializing in Italian and comparative security matters. He is a graduate of Georgetown University, and holds a Doctorate in Juridical Science from the University of Rome. Formerly Senior Foreign Law Specialist (European Division) at the Library of Congress, he has written widely on terrorism and intelligence issues.

Theodore Schwab is an honours student of politics, philosophy and economics at the University of Pittsburgh. In addition to conducting anthropological field studies in the Mediterranean region, Middle East, and South and East Asia in 1982, Schwab lived in the Dominican Republic and researched the history of its labour movement in 1983.

Harold Sims is a Professor of History at the University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He has published primarily in the area of early nineteenth century Mexican history, with three books and several articles to his credit.

Grant Wardlaw is Senior Criminologist at the Australian Institute of Criminology. He is author of Political Terrorism: Theory, Tactics and Counter-Measures (Cambridge University Press, 1982), and a number of other publications in this field.