Conflict Quarterly is published four times a year, in Winter, Spring, Summer and Fall. Information on subscription rates is available on the inside back cover. The Editorial Board welcomes unsolicited submission of articles and book reviews on topics within the field of low-intensity conflict studies. Prospective contributors are advised to consult the Guidelines for Authors printed on the last page of each issue.

Conflict Quarterly is supported by gifts received under the Third Century Fund of the University of New Brunswick.

MODERN WAR STUDIES

MODERN WAR STUDIES: The University Press of Kansas invites the submission of proposals and manuscripts for its new Modern War Studies series, edited by Raymond A. Callahan (University of Delaware), Jacob W. Kipp (U.S. Army Command and General Staff College), Jay Luvaas (U.S. Army War College), and Theodore A. Wilson (University of Kansas).

In launching Modern War Studies, the series editors and the University Press of Kansas intend to provide a forum for the best of the new scholarship in modern military history. The series encompasses the period from the mid eighteenth century to the present, is international in scope, and will embrace such diverse topics as operations; biography; strategy and politics; civil-military relations; institutional, organization, and social history; and the impact of technology on warfare.

Inquiries should be directed to Michael Briggs, Acquisitions Editor, University Press of Kansas, 329 Carruth, Lawrence, Kansas 66045.
