

Figure S1. Photomicrographs of representative zircon crystals from the Park Spur pluton taken in back-scattered electron mode showing zoning patterns typical of igneous zircon. Note the different scale bars on the individual images.