

Editor's Note

Carol Harvey

This issue owes much to M.J. Toswell, who so ably edited Florilegium for six years and consolidated its reputation as a first-rate journal of Medieval Studies, found in academic libraries in many countries. Not only did she establish rigorous standards for submissions and put in place a strong editorial board, she also designed the journal's format, enhanced with artwork by Kathryn Finter. By broadening the disciplinary range of articles and including papers on medievalisms, Dr. Toswell made the journal a reflection of current scholarship in the field. The Canadian Society of Medievalists wishes to record its thanks for her dedicated service to the Society.