Volume 20 (2003) provided a valuable record of Medieval Studies in Canada. Section B of the issue contained information on the grants awarded to Canadian medievalists by the Social Sciences & Humanities Research Council of Canada from 1993-2003. It is a matter of regret that some of our distinguished members were inadvertently omitted from the list:

Sheila Delany (Simon Fraser University) was the first winner of the Society's Labarge Prize for the best book in Medieval Studies by a Canadian or Canadian-resident scholar, for her book Impolitic Bodies. Poetry, Saints and Society in Fifteenth-Century England (Oxford University Press, 1998). Sheila was named Killam Senior Research Fellow from 1993-95, and was awarded SSHRC Standard Research Grants in 1993-96, 1998-2001, as well as in the most recent competition, 2004-07.

John H. Munro (University of Toronto) was awarded SSHRC grants consecutively from 1993 to the present:

1993-96: 'Inflation, Deflation, and the Movement of Wages in Late-Medieval England and the Low Countries, ca. 1300-ca. 1500.'

1996-1999: 'Wage, Labour, Wage Structures, and Labour Mobility in England and the Low Countries, 1400-1600.'

1999-2002: "Monetary Policies, Wage Policies, and Industrial Conflicts in the Late-Medieval Low Countries and England: the Responses of Organised Labour to Inflation and Deflation.'

2003-2006: 'The Medieval Origins of the Modern Financial Revolution.'

It was also incorrectly noted that Brian Catlos (University of Toronto) was awarded a 1-year fellowship for his project 'Evolution of administrative institutions in reconquered Valencia.' This was a 3-year award, 1995-1998.

We regret any inconvenience that these omissions and errors have caused.
