

ATTENTION OF THE READER

The International Hydrographic Review can be of ever-increasing value and interest to its readers with a simple cooperative effort on the part of the Hydrographic Offices of its States-Members.

Original articles published in the « Review » receive a circulation amongst the leading Hydrographic personnel throughout the world and the forwarding of appropriate articles for inclusion in the Review is again urged.

In addition to such original articles, it is requested that our readers keep in mind that many of the articles observed by them in the various publications appearing in the language of their own country are particularly appropriate for re-publication in the « Review ».

By such re-publication articles are ensured of a greatly increased circulation throughout the hydrographic offices of all our States-Members as well as those of many Non-Member States.

The attention of our readers is invited to the foreword on the subject of forwarding articles for inclusion in the Review which appears on the sheet on the reverse side of the title page.
