LEGALLY SPEAKING

A recent and valuable innovation in the program of the Debating Committee of the Law School has been the introduction of the Law School discussion program heard over Radio Station CFBC every Sunday afternoon, entitled "Legally Speaking." The program is presented by the students of the School by way of airing views of the students as to present-day problems from a legal point of view. As such they assume the status of informal debate.

The value of the programs is in their ability to provoke thought on current legal affairs, not only amongst the members of the profession, but also amongst the public generally. To an enthusiastic listening public the legal side of the following problems have been presented:—

"Why a Canadian Bill of Rights," by Gerard La Forest, Eleanor Baxter, Roy McIntyre.

"The Contribution of French Culture to New Brunswick," by John Michaud, Paul Dube, Gordon Fairweather and Carlisle Hanson.

"Appeals to the Privy Council," by John Gillis, Eric Teed and Eric Young.

"The Right To Sue the Crown in the Right of the Province," by Douglas Rice, John McSweeney and Francis Atkinson.

"Fundamental Human Rights," by Bill Gibbon, Ian Mackin and Bob McAulay.

"Legal Aid in New Brunswick," by Percy Smith, Jim Crocco and Ted Gilbert.
